The Daily Standard.

Thursday, October 6, 1870. Grow Your own Governors. A community that does not grow its own rulers is a very poor one indeed The Colonial policy of England has always regarded the colonies as communities, not producing men fit to administer all the offices of a colony, but particularly as being unfit for the office of Goverpor. Now the Ottawa Cabinet seems disposed to follow in the steps of the Mother Country to some extent, if we judge from sundry items that have been circulated through the Canadian papers respecting the governorship of British Columbia. For some time past the name of the Hon. S. L. Tilley has been circulated in the eastern papers as the possible Governor of this colony after our admission. No doubt Mr. Tilley would make a very good Governor. He is a gentleman of great political experience, and particularly in Colonial life. But we confess to being opposed to the importation of governors, Mr. Tilley to the contrary notwithstanding. We are in fact rather surprised to find Mr. Tilley allowing his name to be used in connection with the Governorship of this Colony; not because we consider that the office of Governor of a province under the Dominion to be unimportant; but because he, as a member of the Cabinet, is a governor-maker; and to accept a governorship, under ordinary circumstances. would be accepting an inferior position. It is said, however, that Mr. Tilley's unpopularity in New Brunswick, and the probable breaking up of the present Cabinet, is the reason why a governorship is likely to be acceptable to him. Now a man who has rendered such good service as he has in consolidating the Dominion, deserves well of his country. We, however, repeat that we are opposed to the principles of importing governors from the Eastern Provinces. It might not be insulting to the public men of this Colony for Ottawa to send out a Governor ;-but if one were to be sent here under ordinary circumstances, we would regard it as an evidence of their infer-iority. The anomalous state of things in Nova Scotia made it good policy to make a military officer, Gen. Doyle, Governor, temporarily. Recently, the Hon. Mr. Kenny, a Nova Scotia merchant, formerly Receiver General, has been Acting Lieut-Governor, In New Brunswick. Judge Wilmot, a nativo, is Governor. In Quebec, Sir Narcisse Belleau, a Lower Canadian, is Governor. In Ontario, Mr. Howland, a Toronto merchant, is Governor. In the case of Residents of Craigflower School District will be Manitoba, the first exception against this uniform rule was made. Mr. Archibald. uniform rule was made. Mr. Archibald. a Nova Scotian, was sent out to Fort Garry as Governor. Now, whilst we believe that the people of Manitoba are fully competent to adjust all such matters; and if they don't like the principle of Ottawa sending them out Governors, they will find means to send them back : yet we don't subscribe to the doctrine of passing our public men by to provide a post of honor and emolument for one who ongs to another province. We consider the office of Governor to be a post to which our public men ought to be encouraged to aspire to fill, and not be made to feel that they are considered unfit for the position. In our judgment, we might just as well go to New Westminster to get a mayor to preside over Victoria, as to go to New Brunswick to get a Governor for British Columbia. In every one of the thirty odd States of the United States, they elect their own governors from among their own people. No one ever dreams of the absurdity of Oregon importing a Governor from Ver-mont. Neither should we sanction the principle here of importing governors from the eastern end of the Dominion.

We have enough public men to make governors for the next twenty years at least; and so we should insist on our governors being taken from among the residents of our Colony.
